Report of School District

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Lyndeboro :

Herewith I submit my second annual report as Superintendent of your schools.

Again Lyndeboro was fortunate in having few changes in its corps of teachers. During the summer Miss Catherine McCoy resigned as teacher of the West school and Miss Florence Rideout of Wilton, a graduate of Keene Normal School, was hired to fill the vacancy. Under Miss Rideout's guidance the children of the West district have made very good progress. The training of teachers while in service has become an important function of the two normal schools of the state. It is worthy of note that three of our teachers, Miss Florence Kidder, Miss Verna Slack and Miss Ruth Dearth attended the summer session at Keene, thereby increasing their value as teachers in our schools.

The school situation is still a perplexing problem in Lyndeboro and promises to become increasingly difficult of solution. It is impossible to go into the details of the problem in this report; however, I feel that there should be a brief statement of the facts that all citizens may give their best thought to its solution and come to the school meeting with ideas formulated and prepared to take some definite action. It is no longer a question merely of how to prepare our seventh and eighth grade children in the rural schools so that they will fit reasonably well into the high school systems of neighboring towns. It also involves the problem of a rapidly diminishing school population in some of our districts. This year, as a temporary expedient, the seventh and eighth grade children were transported to the Junior High School in Wilton. This has worked out very satisfactorily as far as the educational advantages of the children are concerned. However it has proven too costly to warrant its continuance another year. Had there been some corresponding decrease in the cost of running the local schools through some plan of consolidation it is probable the state would have continued its approval of the arrangement. However, whether Lyndeboro continues to be state aided or not it appears to be necessary to find some way of decreasing the cost of the schools. The cost of maintaining three of our schools this year is approximately $200 per pupil and the outlook for another year is that the cost per pupil may go as high as $250. Even though the present system of state aid is continued it is not likely that the state will approve this excessive cost. Consequently this problem is one for the town to face and solve rather than for the state.

Perhaps it is well under the circumstances to dwell briefly on the subject of state aid. The amount approved by the State Board for the support of local schools is $2788.44. Of this amount $1,487.16 is sure to be distributed as it is Lyndeboro's share of the sum appropriated two years ago by the legislature. The pro-rated balance is $1,301.38 and will be sent later provided the legislature votes to raise the deficit which the State Board has asked for. With the allowance already made we shall be able to run our schools until March 11 or a total of twenty-six weeks. If the legislature does not raise the balance it will probably be necessary for the district to raise money at the next school meeting to pay the bills legally contracted by the School Board. Accordingly it is advisable to postpone the school meeting until after such time as it is definitely known not only what action the legislature has taken in regard to the deficit for this year, but also in regard to state aid for next year. If state aid is withdrawn it is more than likely that the School Board will wish to revise the budget for next year as printed in the report. The amount of state aid above mentioned does not include any allowance made for transportation and tuitions of children attending the Junior High School at Wilton. At the present writing it is not definitely known what this allowance will be. It has been a matter of great regret to me that the State Board felt compelled because of the excessive cost to withdraw its aid for the second half of the year.

The work in the schools has been uniformly good this year, many pupils particularly in the lower grades making especially good progress. Teachers have found little difficulty in meeting the standard requirements as outlined in the state course of study and in some instances these have been exceeded. Last summer the children showed a great interest in the school garden work. In competition with all other towns of the district Lyndeboro won first prize for the best exhibit of vegetables at the Wilton District Fair last fall. The prize, a large picture of Lincoln, was given by Advance Grange of Wilton and is displayed in the Perham Corner school as that school secured the greatest number of individual prizes at the fair. The other schools to make a good showing were the North, Centre and South schools, while Charles Gutterson of Johnson's Corner had as fine individual exhibits as anyone. The total value of the gardens in all schools was $280.32.

With one exception a very creditable gain in the attendance record has been made this year as a glance at the tables of attendance appended to this report indicates. The average percent of attendance for last year was 88.6 while for the first four months of this year it was 91.3. With the exception of a very few families Lyndeboro citizens appreciate fully the value of regular and prompt attendance of their children at school.

Following is a summary of the report of the medical inspector Doctor George W. Hatch. Number of cases found by the examiner of: Defective vision 5; defective hearing 1; anemia 1; defective teeth 27; Hypertrophied tonsils 4; unvaccinated 8; total number of cases treated since last examination 19. Lyndeboro people have evidently taken medical inspection seriously according to this report. Nineteen instances of treatment secured is a very good record. Much credit is due Miss Julia Gill, who, under the auspices of the Lyndeboro Red Cross, gave health talks to the children in the schools and inspired them to a better care of their bodies.

I have enjoyed my work in Lyndeboro schools during the past year and wish to express my appreciation for the interest shown by parents, and for the hearty co-operation of teachers and the School Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

R. P. CURRIER,
Superintendent of Schools.
